The steadfast militant fighters on this land are the Palestinians

The steadfast militant fighters on this land are the Palestinians, and there will be no solution and no peace without its independence and salvation from the occupation even if the whole world were to normalize with the occupation.