

PL0 official calls new Israeli government 'extremist' and 'racist'

Minister Hussein al-Sheikh, the Chairman of the Palestinian Authority's Civil Affairs Commission said that the new Israeli government warns of a new political phase that require new Palestinian national plans to confront the racists masters of the next said government.

The PL0 official took it to his Twitter page to say that the new masters of the Israeli government are extremists and racists.

"The program of the upcoming Israeli government and the agreement of the right-wing fascist coalition warns that we are headed towards a new political phase in which tactics and strategies will change," al-Sheikh tweeted.

"It will require a comprehensive re-evaluation and new Palestinian national plans, locally and internationally, to confront the plans of extremists and racists, the new masters of the next government in Israel."
